GUEST SPEAK

Mr Pankaj Satija, GM (OMQ), Tata Steel

"We are using art as a medium to create awareness about conserving biodiversity. Events like this help the community understand the importance of environment protection, in a simpler way. This hands-on art workshop will engage community in various biodiversity activities to build a better appreciation and understanding of the work that is being done here and that has to be done in future for environment protection."

Mr Manas Ranjan Jena , Eminent Canvas Artist
from Odisha

"I am delighted to be here today and thank Tata Steel for giving opportunity to the artists to exhibit and promote art and culture in the interiors of the state."

Mr Badal Pramanik , Eminent Canvas
Artist from Jharkhand

"Tata Steel has been doing a lot to promote art and culture in the state. But this unique combination of art and biodiversity is something which is commendable. Protection of biodiversity is the need of the hour and a programme like this helps in spreading the biodiversity message across."
